INSPIRATION GUARANTEED!

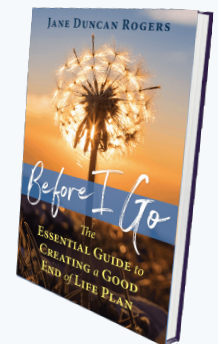

Jane was devastated when her husband died – this was not in their plans! Her greatest fear had come true, she was on her own at age 54. However, little did she know that 3 years on she would have published a book called Gifted By Grief. How could she be gifted by this terrible loss? And yet she was – and that has led her directly to what she does now.

Her background of 25 years in the coaching and training field has been perfect for the not-for-profit she founded in 2016, Before I Go Solutions®, that has since grown into a six-figure enterprise.

Together with her Directors and international team of licensed End of Life Plan Facilitators, she offers products and programmes to help people complete their end of life plans, which 90% of people say is essential, but only 14% actually do anything about.
